

Torrance Youngsters At Crestline Camp

Three Torrance children, Shirley Pike, 8, of 1023 Spicer, James Potter, 9, of 130 W. 219th Pl., and Norma Jean Root, 9, of 814 Fonthill Ave., are among 128 children who left recently for two weeks of fun and outdoor living at a summer camp supported by the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County. This trip is made possible by the thousands of Los Angeles citizens who earlier this year bought Easter seals which support Camp Paivika, near Crestline, in the San Bernardino Mountains.

Teacher Requirement In 15 of the states only citizens may be school teachers.

JUST THE FACTS... That's what students get when they question businessmen and women on Work Experience program needs. Here Joan Koppes, right, interviews Mrs. Sam Von Wagner, wife of owner of Von's Maple Shop. The survey will be used to help high schools plan work programs and classes for students.

SURVEY QUESTIONS... Jack Campbell, left, queries Paul Smith, owner of the Torrance Desk and Equipment Co., as part of the community survey being undertaken by students to supplement Work Experience program at high schools. Students are spending July and August covering downtown area in surveying managers and owners of local businesses on aspects of the program.

Work Experience Survey Queries Local Businesses

A community survey now is being conducted by local high school students to determine employer needs of the Work Experience Education program being carried on in the district.

Students have been querying business firms on the needs of each in relation to the Work Experience program. Students work part-time under the program and usually work in some area with which they have become acquainted through high school classes.

The survey is being conducted this month and next and is under the supervision of Warren Hamilton, director of special services for the district, and Lyle R. Albro, coordinator of the work program. Results of the polling will be made available to the public and will be tabulated early in September.

Students currently enrolled in the summer salesmanship and merchandising class are carrying out the interview surveys. Managers and owners of local businesses are the respondents in the survey.

According to Hamilton, purpose of the survey is to collect information necessary to gear the educational program more closely to the community's occupational needs and employment opportunities.

The Torrance Chamber of Commerce is jointly backing the work with the Torrance Unified School District.

Beach Parking Rate Reduced to 25 Cents

Reduced week-day parking rates at the County beach at Torrance has been announced by Supervisor Burton W. Chase.

Chase said the week-day schedule rate will be 25 cents per car, and the present charge of 50 cents per car will remain in effect on week ends and holidays.

Air Sickness

Only about one airline passenger in 1,000 suffers from air sickness.

OFFICE VISIT... Don Anderson, director of personnel at American Standard, takes time out from duties to help Paul Chandler, right, and Joan Koppes gather data for school district questionnaire. Students visited general offices of local plant during past week as part of drive to survey most of Torrance businesses and firms.

ON DUTY... Diane Powers, local high school student, gets her work experience pounding typewriter at the Torrance Desk and Equipment Co. She is enrolled in the Work Experience Education program offered by the school district.
